DIVISION OF BUSINESS and FINANCE
A Message from

Vice-President Mary Voves

I am honored to serve in my fourteenth year as the Vice President for Business and Finance and Treasurer at Eastern Washington University. The Business and Finance division proudly serves Eastern’s 12,000 students and 1260 staff and faculty by providing excellent facilities, fiscal stewardship and the management of physical and human resources to benefit generations of future students. Our goal as a division is to meet or exceed the expectations of our university community in all the services we deliver. On behalf of the 422 employees in Business and Finance I am pleased to share this guidebook which provides an overview of the services, responsibilities and dedicated support provided by our team.

OUR VISION

We are a valuable partner in the teaching, research and outreach endeavors of the University. We reflect in our daily operations the University's commitment to a high quality, student centered learning environment. By ensuring financial viability of the institution, we help Eastern grow and prosper. Campus appearance and infrastructure contribute positively to the overall learning experience. By participating fully in the campus community, the Business and Finance staff enhances the quality of campus life.
The Division of Business and Finance provides stewardship of the university’s human, financial, and physical resources, all of which enhance the university’s ability to achieve its mission. Successful stewardship is accomplished by providing fiscal leadership, safeguarding University assets (both financial and physical), and providing a safe, attractive, and comfortable physical environment.

EWU is the fastest-growing institution in Washington State, with over $300M in net assets, an annual budget of $225M, enrollment of over 12,500 students (Fall 2012), and 1260 administrative, classified, and faculty employees.

Ensuring financial viability of the institution enables it to grow and prosper. Attracting and retaining a qualified and diverse staff promotes excellence in the fulfillment of the institution’s academic mission and delivery of services. Campus appearance and infrastructure contribute positively to the overall learning experience.

Core Services
The core services performed by the Business and Finance division encompass a broad range of essential business functions:

- A principal function of the Business and Finance division is to manage the university’s biennial and supplemental operating and capital planning and budgeting processes. This responsibility is complemented by campus-wide participation in a biennial and annual budgeting process.
- Financial, Compliance, and Operational enterprise Risk analysis, assessment and management.
- A major component of an effective management of the university’s finances includes an appropriate system of accounting and financial reporting. Since 2007, the university has utilized the Banner Finance system, a leading accounting software in the higher education industry.
- Other areas of responsibility under the finance organization include, payroll, accounts payable, treasury management, student accounts management and collection of receivables, debt issuance, and all internal and external reporting of financial information.
- The division manages the long-term planning and development of the institution’s Facilities Master Plan. The Facilities Master Plan supports the 10-year Capital plan. With these as a base, the Facilities and Planning team manages the capital projects as approved in the biennial capital budget.
- The Facilities team supervises the operation and maintenance of the physical plant, which includes all buildings and grounds on campus.
- Another key area is the procurement of supplies and equipment for the campus which ensures competitive pricing and efficient use of university resources. This team also oversees the administration of contracts, including compliance with state laws and regulations.
- A key function of the division is to provide management over all aspects of employment services, including recruiting, retaining, and development of faculty and staff, management of benefits and employee relations.
- The auxiliary services in the division provide daily services to students, staff, and faculty through its campus Dining and Catering operations, event, camp, and conference planning, management of campus recreational facilities, campus Bookstore, student union (PUB) operations, and the University apartments.
- Emergency management.
- The division also includes the Campus Police and public safety operations, which is comprised of fully commissioned police officers.
- Environmental Health and Safety oversee vital programs and compliance to ensure employees and students are safe in the campus and classroom environments.

Facilities and Planning is at the heart of the university’s planning, construction and operations of the physical campus. The organization provides stewardship and management of the university’s investments and resources in the area of Architectural, Engineering and Construction Services, Facilities Maintenance and Facilities Services to support and enable EWU’s academic mission and reputation as a safe, healthy, attractive place to learn, work, live, play and visit.
Facilities Master Planning
Planning of the physical campus is critical for Eastern to meet its strategic goals. This process is accomplished by a systematic planning process that focuses on the university facilities and infrastructure and how they support the academic mission. The University Facilities Master Plan is a road map for future improvement and additions to university campus. As projects are completed and new strategic goals are formulated the plan is updated and reaffirmed. While the Facilities Master Plan defines the course for university facilities it also is a flexible document that allows the university to respond to market changes in the academic needs of students and faculty. For this reason the university updates the Facilities Master Plan on a regular basis.

Capital Planning and Budgeting
At the start of each biennium, the Facilities and Planning department manages the process to develop long-term capital plans that are presented to the state in a ten-year capital planning document. This document outlines priority projects as they sequence through the funding requests for pre-planning, design and construction. Each biennium, the university requests capital funds to meet the next step in the ten-year plan and the Capital Master Plan. This process allow for making changes that that meet short term needs and the rapidly changing education market while not losing sight of the long term overriding goals and direction of the university.

Sustainability

Facilities and Planning is committed to the effective use of our natural resources as well and adopting sustainable design and construction processes within all of our capital projects. Major capital projects follow LEED (Leadership in Engineering and Environmental Design) criteria.

The Facilities team champions the university’s efforts and initiatives for environmental sustainability and natural resource management by providing leadership and expertise.

In consultation with energy efficiency design/build firm McKinstry, Facilities’ has led the development of a comprehensive campus-wide Energy Efficiency and Sustainability Plan. In addition, the AVP for Facilities and Planning co-chairs (with the Vice Provost for Academic Affairs) the university’s Campus Sustainability Committee. The committee’s mission is to support university leadership in its goal of promoting environmental sustainability and reducing the impact of university operations has on the environment.

These activities ensure the university’s compliance with the American College and University Presidents’ Climate Commitment and legislative requirements of the State of Washington.

- Management of the university treasury function.
- Administration and delivery of accounting and financial services.
- Fulfilling the requirements for external and internal financial reporting.
- Management of external audit.
- Management of the tuition and fees process.

The Financial Services department, led by the Chief Financial Officer, provides comprehensive fiscal leadership and service to the university community and constituents to ensure a secure and stable financial environment. This team supports the institution’s mission and goals by leading activities in planning, financial accounting and reporting, managing, and maximizing the value of its financial resources. These services provide valuable support to the university strategic plan and Facilities Master plan while ensuring long term sustainability of the university for the benefit of current and future generations of students.

Financial Services provides thoughtful and expert advice, consultation, and assistance to the university community regarding business and operational planning and budgeting, funds management, financial accounting and reporting, management analysis, and cash flow forecasting. This team is also develops and maintains university fiscal administrative procedures. The office is comprised of several financial operations that together work to create a strong fiscal environment for the university.
Budget Services

Budget Services plans and oversees the activities of the biennial and interim budget cycles for internal, external, and capital planning. It facilitates the process of translating the university’s academic and administrative plans into budgets utilized for state funding requests, internal allocations and utilization, and execution of the university’s strategic goals and objectives.

Working with the university community, Budget Services assesses and monitors fiscal performance in accordance with approved budget plans for all campus units. In addition, Budget Services plays a key role in performing accurate, comprehensive and timely revenue and expense analysis used for informed executive decision-making, and internal and external reporting.

Budget Services is also responsible for position management, support and training of unit budget managers, and the maintenance of budget schedules and process tools.

Student Financial Services

The Student Financial Services Office provides an integral link between timely and efficient management of the billing of student tuition and fees and the principle point of collection of university revenues. In managing this close relationship between customer service to our students and financial accounting, the department is responsible for student accounts billing, accounts receivable management and collections, and revenue recording for the university. Student Financial Services is also responsible for student financial aid disbursement. A key part of the service provided by this team is assisting students and families with tuition payment plan services, guaranteed tuition plan payments, as well as billing other third parties.

Annually, the Student Financial Services office manages an average of 13,000 active student accounts, with a billing volume of $81 million in student tuition and fees.

Office of Controller

The mission of the Office of Controller is to support the university by providing financial accounting and reporting, treasury and cash management, financial systems development, institutional fiscal policy and internal controls, and guidance on state and federal regulations. In addition to the conduct of daily business, this team of professional accounting and fiscal staff prepares the university-wide financial statements and supporting documents, ongoing disclosure requirements for bond issues, as well as reporting to the state of Washington. Within the office of Controller, there are a number of distinct units:

- The Treasury function manages the university’s banking relationships, daily management of cash balances and investment of public funds, and debt service on borrowings.

- Faculty and Staff Recruitment and Retention
- Faculty and Staff Relations
- Collective Bargaining
- Employee Benefits
- Position Management & Compensation
- Professional and Organizational Development
- Environmental Health and Safety information, training, monitoring, and compliance
- Employment Risk Assessment and Management

Human Resources Rights and Risks (HRRR) works in support of the university’s mission and vision by providing strategic and operational management of functions related to recruiting, retaining, and developing a diverse and quality workforce.

In addition, HRRR works to protect the health and safety of students, faculty, staff, and visitors, and the environmental integrity of the campus and surroundings.

The department is also responsible for providing strategic and operational oversight in the areas of employment risk management and compliance.
Employment Services
The focus of the Employment operations provided by the HRRR organization is on recruiting, hiring and retaining qualified faculty and staff.

Services include management of the hiring processes and policies for faculty and staff positions, immigration processing, position classification, and compensation analysis and administration. Oversight and administration of the employee performance management process, including evaluations, discipline, separations and layoffs is also provided.

Benefits
The Benefits function is responsible for the management and administration of all employee benefits activities, procedures, and policies. This area is a resource to faculty and staff employees for Information and training related to employee benefit programs such as health insurance, retirement, deferred compensation, long term disability, leave, workers compensation and unemployment.

A key responsibility of this function is monitoring and ensuring compliance with University, State, and Federal benefits rules, regulations, and policies.

Professional and Organizational Development
The professional development services include conducting new faculty and staff employment, safety, and benefit orientations, as well as supervisor employment and safety orientations.

Collective Bargaining
The Collective Bargaining services include the oversight and coordination of the negotiation of union contracts with the Washington Federation of State Employees representing the classified staff and United Faculty of Eastern representing the faculty and the administration of the Grievance and Arbitration processes.

Environmental Health And Safety
Consistent with EWU’s goal of creating and sustaining a safe campus, the Office of Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) provides information and assistance for accident prevention, accident reporting, accident follow-up, environmental programs, safety training, occupational health, ergonomics, protective equipment, hazardous waste, biohazards and bio-waste, and radiation safety for employees and students of Eastern Washington University.

EHS’ certified staff reviews university departmental use of any and all hazardous or toxic material. The unit proactively provides training for the use, handling, and appropriate disposal of any potentially harmful products. EHS also writes and monitors procedures for University staff to follow when using any potentially harmful product or material. Activities associated with the handling and disposal of hazardous materials are monitored closely by local and regional regulatory agencies. EWU regularly works in close communication with these agencies to meet their requirements and respond to their concerns.

The EHS office strives to ensure a safe and healthy environment for all students, faculty, staff and visitors, and to protect the environmental integrity of the campus and surroundings.
PUBLIC SAFETY/UNIVERSITY POLICE

Total Resources: $1.1M
Total FTE: 12 FTE

Core Services and Programs:
- Ensuring a safe and secure environment for all who work, study or visit the EWU campus.
- Responsible for the preparation and submission of the EWU Annual Safety and Fire Report/Clery Report as mandated by the federal “Right to Know: Student Campus Security Act” (Clery Act).
- E2Campus (EWU Alerts) EWU Emergency Notification System.
- Training programs for students and staff on personal safety methods and techniques.
- Student Cadet Program.

The university has a fully commissioned police force with a broad range of expertise and training that is aligned with best practices in law enforcement and public safety.

Officers are assigned to each residence hall in Cheney, and, collectively, the University Police offer dozens of on-campus training programs, including self-defense, live shooter drills in conjunction with area agencies, and guidance on how to protect personal property.

A key responsibility of the University Police department is the management and execution of the EWU Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP). The plan includes evacuation procedures for the university depending on the type of emergency.

The EWU Police Department conducts an annual training exercise that simulates a real event. This exercise tests and evaluates most functions of the emergency management plan which includes the mass notification system, E2Campus (EWU Alerts) EWU Emergency Notification System, which sends emergency text messages to cell phones and emails to students, parents or staff.

The department is responsible for the preparation and submission of the EWU Annual Safety and Fire Report/Clery Report as mandated by the federal “Right to Know: Student Campus Security Act” (Clery Act). The report includes:
- Statistical data for prior 3 years on reported crimes on the EWU campus and other properties owned or controlled by EWU, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from, EWU’s campus.

- Information on institutional policies concerning campus security issues, such as policies concerning sexual assault, alcohol use and other matters.
- Campus safety information describing police services, processes, and security resources such as crime reporting procedure, access to safety escorts, and use and locations of the Code Blue public emergency stations.

The University Police have a dedicated website at http://access.ewu.edu/Police.xml with comprehensive information on services, programs, policies, and reporting. These practices ensure that disclosures are in full accordance with federal and state regulations.
RECORDS MANAGEMENT

Core Services:
- Oversight and management of all public records requests submitted to the university.
- Oversight and management of records retention policies and processes.
- Interpretation, application, and enforcement of the State Public Records Act.
- Monitor compliance with state public records regulations and university policies.

The Records Management unit assists all departments with the disposition of any papers, correspondence, forms, bound volume, films, magnetic record, drawings, or other documents (regardless of media) that have been created or received during the course of public business. The Records Retention Manager works with State Records Management, The State Records Center and the University Archives.

Effective records retention management enables the university to be efficient, more productive, minimize supply and equipment costs, improve storage systems and protect against litigation risks regarding record keeping practices.
The Business and Finance division is headed by Vice President Mary Voves. As vice president, Voves works within the broad university community to strengthen and further align central administrative services and financial functions with the university’s core mission of teaching, research and service. With over 26 years experience in higher education Voves has served in similar administrative roles in Oregon and Arizona before coming to Eastern. She leads a staff of 422 employees and is directly responsible for managing a division budget of $45million. Voves is responsible for managing the university’s budget of $225million, a treasury portfolio of $120 million, endowment funds and debt issuance and has recently guided the university through $56million in budget reductions over a four year period. Over the last 14 years Voves has been responsible for over $300 million of new capital construction on Eastern’s 320 acre campus.

Ms. Voves has an MBA from Virginia Tech and an undergraduate degree in Economics from SUNY Brockport.

Ms. Voves is active at a national level in professional organizations such as the National Association of College and University Business Officers and spends her volunteer time in the Spokane community working with such organizations as the American Heart Association and the Women’s and Children’s’ Free Restaurant.
The Business and Auxiliary Services organization is led by Associate Vice-President (AVP) LeeAnn Case. She also serves as Executive Director of the Pence Union Building (PUB) operations. With 26 years of experience in higher education business and administration services, her responsibilities include operational and fiscal oversight of the university Auxiliary units comprised of: the University Bookstore, student union building, University Recreational Facilities, Dining and Catering, Event Planning, Purchasing, Contracts, Real Estate, Parking, and Mail Services.
