Honor Roll of Donors
2008

EASTERN
WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
FOUNDATION
Dear friends,

The past year was difficult financially for all of us as sagging markets not only squeezed Eastern Washington University’s Foundation endowment but also limited the ability of our alumni and friends to help with monetary gifts. But while the global economic crisis has presented many dark clouds, those of you in this honor roll have emerged as rays of sunlight.

I am very grateful to each and every one of you for your continued generosity. As most of you probably know, we held a special giving campaign this spring, the Save Our Scholarships (S.O.S.) effort. Many people on the lists in this honor roll gave to that emergency effort – on top of their annual donations – to help ensure Eastern students continue to pursue their educational dreams. It’s just a small example of what we can accomplish together.

As Eastern’s state funding support continues to decrease, it will be more important than ever for the University to generate revenue for student support and aid from other sources, including donations from our friends and alumni. Those of you in the honor roll understand the impact a gift to the University can have on our students. It’s a worthy and noble investment.

While things may be difficult now, I am confident that brighter days will return and EWU will still be delivering an affordable and quality education to Washington citizens and students from our local communities.

Thank you once again for taking an interest in Eastern Washington University’s fundraising successes, and I hope to see the Honor Roll of Donors continue to grow in the coming years.

Sincerely,

Rodolfo Arévalo, PhD

Bianey Oyos, education major

“I am the first in my family to attend a four-year university and I am blessed to have the opportunity to be here. Despite the fact that my parents only received a first-grade education, they always encouraged me to stay in school and have taught me the importance of an education. Moving away from home was hard, but my motivation to help others, provide a better future for my family and myself were my strongest inspirations. As a future teacher, I want to motivate my students to continue to a higher education.

“My future goal is to obtain a master’s in education. I know that a higher education is important in providing a better future not only for my family and me but also for my community. The more knowledge I have, then the better I can prepare future generations in their educational career.

“I am looking forward to one day contributing to someone’s education in the way you are contributing to mine now.”

Chris Newbury, music major

“Throughout my entire life, I have spent many hours on my instrument hoping that someday all those hours would pay off. Although I feel like I have accomplished a lot, I still know there is much more to learn and I am grateful for the chance to continue my education at EWU.

“I started playing the drums when I was 3 years old. It has been a huge part of my life ever since. In high school I really realized the gift that I had been given. It was an honor to be selected to the Montana All-State Jazz Ensemble twice and also to win the Jazz Montana Scholarship. As a senior I was offered a full tuition waiver to attend the University of Montana for percussion. I only spent one year there before I moved to Pasco, Wash. I played in the Columbia Basin College Jazz Ensemble for three years as well as the Columbia Basin Jazz Orchestra, which is made up of local professionals. When I heard that EWU hired a new percussion teacher, my interest in Eastern grew. As soon as I heard Dr. Michael Waldrop play, I knew that finishing my music education degree was the right thing to do.

“Have learned so much in my first year at Eastern. I don’t know exactly what I want to do after school, but I know I am heading in the right direction. I love teaching and playing and I really feel like Eastern is getting me ready for both of those options. My primary focus is school right now, but I’m excited to start thinking about the future and what that could be.”

Kimberly Venetz, senior, biology major, music minor

“As an Honors student, I am also working toward achieving departmental honors in biology. I love to learn and I am currently a member of the Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Eta Sigma and Sigma Alpha Lambda Honor societies. After my academic career at Eastern, I plan to go on to graduate school to continue with my studies in science. I hope to one day pursue a career in conservation or a related field. I am currently assisting with and conducting several studies on the stickleback, an introduced species of fish here in Spokane County. My studies are primarily focusing on the stickleback’s effect on the native wildlife, such as the native waterfowl, minnows, and plankton populations. I have also volunteered with U.S. Fish and Wildlife in banding migratory birds and I have helped plant trees at the Turnbull National Wildlife Refuge.

“I play the viola and I truly love being involved in many musical ensembles on campus. I am a member of a string trio that played at several special occasions on campus in addition to performances in the Spokane area and I also play in the EWU orchestra and sit principal chair violist. I also play electric viola and am a member of an electric quartet. Recently, I have helped perform original compositions of some of my peers majoring in music composition.”

David Gonzalez, pre-law and business administration studies major

“I came from the small town of Royal City, Wash. In high school as well as now, I have maintained a high GPA because I have always desired to pursue my education as far as possible. Fortunately, I am able to maintain a 3.904 GPA here at EWU because of my passion and striving to succeed.

“I have a great passion for the law because it gives me an avenue to pursue my desire to help my community with its personal problems. Moreover, 10 years down the road I envision myself becoming an advocate and giving aid to my community with any of their legal problems…I plan to advance in my career and become a judge…becoming a judge will allow me to meet more lawyers and judges and expand my influence in the community and beyond.

“Scholarship support is highly important to me because with it I could pay part of my third year’s tuition and other payments here at EWU. I do not come from a wealthy family, so I will be responsible for financing my own education.

“Now realize there are people that have great hearts and are willing to help others. Thank you for donating money…if God wills, one day I would like to financially help other student applicants with their schooling as well.”

Aline Giampietro Fletcher, senior, piano performance major

“I am an undergraduate working toward my piano performance major under the tutelage of Jody Graves. I am also starting my own private piano studio in Spokane.

“I was born and grew up in Fortaleza, a beautiful city in northeastern Brazil. With the support of my parents, I started taking lessons at the age of 6, and since then music has been a constant passion in my life. In 2003, I graduated from the Music Conservatory Alberto Nepomuceno. In 2004, I decided to move to the United States after being invited to study piano performance at Campbellsville University, a small Baptist school in Campbellsville, Ky. At the end of 2006, I married my husband and moved to Spokane. To continue my undergraduate studies, I transferred to EWU.

“Since started my journey at EWU, I have grown a lot as a person and as a professional. Through the support of this scholarship, I will be able to conclude by undergraduate studies with EWU and proceed with my performing and teaching career.

“In the future, I would like to expand my private piano studio, and get involved or even start my own project to allow children with financial hardship to study music in Spokane. Further in the future, I would like to establish a scholarship foundation to send other young, aspiring musicians abroad, permitting them, as I have, to expand their musical skills and opportunities.

“I would like to compose various types of music, including music from diverse cultures that would allow me to experiment with different sounds, rhythms and ideas. I would also love to promote more classical Brazilian composers by performing their music, and writing books about their works and lives.

“Thank you for your support, which allows me to keep moving forward in my career and the pursuit of my dreams.”

Jerry Allen, junior, social work major

“I am a 39-year-old nontraditional college student from Spokane who has returned to school after 19 years. I have a cumulative GPA of 3.51. I am a youth minister at Mount Zion Holiness Church. I worship at American Behavior Health Systems (drug and alcohol treatment center) full time, and a regular volunteer at the East Central Community Center, and a loving husband and father of three.

“My plans are to receive a BASW from EWU and continue on to get my MSW. After school, I plan to work with troubled youth in the Spokane area. I would love to work in any field, as long as I can be of service to my community or in Spokane in general.

“Receiving a scholarship means a lot to me. When I first started going to school, I did not think I would be able to afford the tuition at the university level. I have received several loans and grants to get this far. Every little bit counts when you are trying to make a career change. With your help, I am sure to make a smooth transition from community college to EWU.”
